CHEST FILLED TO OVERFLOWING

The Washington Avenue Presbyterian church congregation met Monday evening, to bring in their last gifts for the "chest" which has been an object of much interest among the members. Ever since the church was erected there has been a debt hanging over the congregation. Plans were made about the holidays for paying off the debt, and the 24th of March was the date for opening the chest.

A program was arranged for the occasion. S. D. Hill, president of the board of trustees, was the presiding officer. Miss Emma Chatter sang a solo and the Misses Chatter and Allison sang a duet accompanied by Mrs. Clifford Patterson. Rev. Burson spoke of the chest of Jehoida, after which the "chest" was carried on a white platform by James Dawson, H. A. Williams, Mont Robertson and Joseph Steck to the rear of the room. Then the envelopes were gathered and the chest overflowed.

The chest was then brought to the front near the altar and its contents were dedicated to God. Then the presiding officer, S. D. Hill, spoke feelingly of the sacrifices made to clear the church of debt.

The debt was announced as $1,267.00. H. A. Williams announced the gift and Mont Robertson wrote them on the blackboard. When all were totaled it was found that instead of having $1,267.00 they had $2,904.97 or $1,637.97 more than the debt. It was found that there were ten $100 checks and one $150 check.

The joy of the congregation was unbounded and the audience spontaneously sang, "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow." A committee was then appointed to prepare a program for a festive occasion, when suitable recognition of Monday Light's work will be given. The audience lingered until a late hour and belated envelopes were still coming in when the happy evening at last came to an end.

DRAFT BOARDS' WORK ENDS NEXT MONDAY

All draft boards throughout Pennsylvania will cease to exist on the 31st day of March, and judging from reports reaching state draft headquarters at Harrisburg, men who served in the 281 districts which were closed are rapidly getting affairs into shape to report that their services are ended and Army requirements complied with. This week all government property not disposed of by order will be sold.

BENTLEYVILLE MAN ROBBED OF MONEY

A foreigner residing on the Pittsburgh road near Bentleyville was relieved of $1,250 on Saturday night at 12 o'clock, when his home was entered by three masked bandits and he was forced to turn his earnings over at the point of a revolver. Detectives were notified of the robbery and in conjunction with the local Bentleyville authorities have been trying to apprehend the robbers, but so far no clue has been established.

BOROUGH BUILDING COMPLETED SOON

The journeymen plumbers returned to work Monday morning at the new scale, and all local jobs which were held up pending an adjustment of the differences are once more under way. The plumbing work at the new municipal building was gotten under way Monday morning, and the contractors expect to have it completed in about ten days. The tile workers are somewhat delayed in their work, owing to the non-arrival of necessary material and when this work is completed it is expected the building will be ready for occupancy. From present indications it will be ready in April when the local borough authorities will be able to move to their new quarters and surrender possession of both the former borough buildings.

CHADS CHALFANT IS REPORTED IMPROVING

Chads Chalfant, who was injured on Saturday afternoon last when he was run over by an automobile driven by a Mr. Quick, and who was operated on at the Allegheny General Hospital in Pittsburgh, late Monday afternoon is reported to have passed a fairly comfortable night, and to have been much brighter this morning. Surgeons found that the boy's liver had been split when he was run over and this condition would have caused great trouble for the lad had he not been operated upon.

Yates Brings In Six Boche Prisoners

Charles J. Doyle of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times, now with the Eightieth Division in France, in his story "Our Sons and Brothers Over There," tells the following incident about a Charleroi boy:

"Private Frank Yates of Charleroi, was a faithful oldier and his commanding officer always respected him for his loyalty. Frank's Captain is a fighting football star from Buffalo—Capt. R. F. Jenkins, one of the most capable and popular leaders in the entire Eightieth Division, who seems to like to hear the whistle of the machine gun bullets.

Private Yates is a member of Company I, Three Hundred and Nineteenth Infantry, which company is Capt. Jenkins' command. The latter is a big rangy fellow who looks more like a private on the battlefield. He would settle all his arguments with his fists if he were allowed, and the fact that he possesses a college education makes a combination that is hard to beat.

So it was quite natural when Capt. Jenkins discovered Private Yates, missing for more than an hour, he was puzzled as he would trust Yates anywhere.

"I wonder what's become of Yates?" said Capt. Jenkins to one of his lieutenants. "He was near me when we went over the top and for some time after. I don't think he was hit. I remember seeing him during the fighting. He stopped for a few minutes to fix up a poor fellow that was hit, but that's been more than an hour ago."

Private Yates was a sort of a confident and orderly to his captain. He became popular with Capt. Jenkins while the latter was a lieutenant at Camp Lee, and when Jenkins won his promotion he kept Yates near him.

The Three Nineteenth and Three Twentieth were in a terrific combat in the Argonne sector. Company I was among the participating units and when this company came to a breaching spell, Capt. Jenkins looked for Yates, as he had a task for the latter to perform. Finally Yates showed up looking fatigued and hungry.

"What happened to you, Yates?" asked his captain in a rather grievous tone.

"Sir, I had to walk six prisoners back about five miles before I could deliver them safely," was the remarkable reply of Private Yates. "What six prisoners?" gasped the astonished captain.

"I got six Jerries near that shell hole where I stopped to bandage the fellow," continued the Charleroi boy. "I turned them over to the nearest M. P. sir, and he gave me this receipt—here it is."

Private Yates handed his captain the receipt given him by Sergt. S. C. Welch, Company A, One Hundred and Eighth Military Police.

Yates with a French-Canadian soldier nicknamed "Couchy" had stopped to bind another doughboy's wounds. As they emerged from the shell hole they saw six Germans coming in their direction. Both doughboys were armed with rifles and they succeeded in taking the first dozen Germans in tow, six coming over with their arms outstretched. The Charleroi boy knew he ought to catch up with his captain, but knew also it was important to turn the prisoners over to someone in authority. He figured they would not have to walk far, but the hike proved a long one. Commanding the six Jerries to walk in single file in front, Yates and "Couchy" marched until they accosted Sergt. Welch, the M. P., who insisted on giving a receipt for the made-in-Germany product.

VESTA FIVE MINERS ARE ON A STRIKE

A strike was declared by the miners at Vesta No. 5, early last week, and since that time the mine has not been in operation, although the schedule of the company called for four days at this plant each week.

The cause of the strike could not be learned, although several stories are afloat. One is to the effect that one of the miners had been refused one of the company houses at Vesta; another is that the entries were being driven by the same crew of workmen, when the union demanded that the work be divided.

Officials of the company are very frank to say that they do not know why the men have refused to work. The company does not need so much coal at the mills at the present time and it is thought by some that work at Vesta 5 may be indefinitely suspended. Mines Nos. 4, 6 and 7 are working more than half time.

DOGS BOY'S CLOTHES AND THEN RUNS AWAY

Forbidden to visit friends at West Elizabeth, Victoria Phelps, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Phelps, of West Brownsville, became a boy for a few days.

She left her home in West Brownsville last Thursday, taking $10 with which she purchased a full outfit of boy's wearing apparel. She went to a barber shop and had her "bobbed" hair cut short. In the rear of a stable on Shady Avenue she donned her boy's clothing and cap, leaving her discarded garments near the garage of L. E. Smith. The clothing was found later and for a time it was believed that Victoria was drowned.

When the matter was reported to the police the friends of the Philadelphia family in West Elizabeth were telephoned. They told the anxious parents that Victoria, attired in boy's clothing, had just arrived there. She was at once returned to her home in West Brownsville. The little girl told her mother that shortly after donning boy's clothing she had gone to a theatre to see the movies. She fell asleep and was unnoticed by the theatre attaches. When the janitress arrived the following morning she found Victoria who escaped and boarded a train for West Elizabeth, where for a time her mother's friends were at a loss to establish her identity.

GAMBLING ENDS IN SHOOTING AFFRAY

Forka Armnick, a Russian miners of Ellsworth, was probably mortally wounded Sunday morning about 3 o'clock when he was shot by Frank Romanoff during a session of gambling at a boarding house in Cokeburg. Armnick was removed to the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh, where his condition last night was reported as serious. He was shot five times, each shot taking effect and puncturing his intestines. Romanoff was arrested on Sunday by Constable John Doktor, of Ellsworth, and taken before Justice David Reese, who gave him a preliminary hearing and committed him to jail, where he is being held on a charge of assault and battery.

Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh Takes the Entire Issue

RUSH ROAD WORK THIS YEAR

Washington county road improvement bonds to the amount of $125,000 were sold by the County Controller on Monday to the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh. These bonds were authorized by the County Commissioners, and will be used in the improvement of roads in this county during the coming summer. The bid of the Mellon bank was par and a premium of $347. Lyon, Singer & Co., of Pittsburgh, $237.50, the National City Company of New York $48.75, and Frazier Co., of Philadelphia, $837.50.

The bonds are in denomination of $1,000 each and bear four and one-half per cent interest, free of tax in Pennsylvania. They mature, serially, from October 1, 1927 to October 1, 1936, both inclusive. They are not redeemable before maturity; interest on each is payable semi-annually, in April and October of each year.

They are coupon bonds and the buyer has the privilege of registering them both as to interest and principal.

The County Commissioners hope to be able to do a great deal of road work in the county the coming summer, and have already advertised for repairs to the Taylorstown, the East Pike Run and the Denora-Monon gahela roads, all of which will be rebuilt providing the bids are anywhere within reason.

FIRST UNIT OF 28th ARRIVES HOME

The 103rd trench mortar battery of the Twenty-eighth Division arrived in New York on Monday on the ship North Carolina. This is the first of the famous Keystone Division to arrive home from overseas. The battery is from the eastern part of the state and is in command of Capt. Ralph Knowles. Members of the unit said the balance of the Twenty-eighth will leave France for home some time in May.

The Twenty-eighth Division lost more men in killed and wounded than any other National Guard division. He was shot five times, each shot taking effect and puncturing his intestines. Romanoff was arrested on Sunday by Constable John Doktor, of Ellsworth, and taken before Justice David Reese, who gave him a preliminary hearing and committed him to jail, where he is being held on a charge of assault and battery.

AFTER PEACE, WHAT?

Shortly the peace terms dictated by the Versailles conference of the allies will be submitted to Germany. There will be considerable haggling on Germany's part, no doubt, but in the end she will have to accept them. For Germany must pay the price of her self-made world war.

And she must accept such conditions as the victors impose, conditions that will make it impossible ever again for Germany to precipitate such a world catastrophe. Her claws must and will be clipped.

She must never again be able to dream of world dominion.

Then the old world may settle down once more to the business of life. To the realization of safety and security. To the taking up of the struggling, fraying ends and the tangled threads of existence.

And what comes after peace is largely in our own hands. More, individually, perhaps, than ever before. For right now there is a greater, more intimate personal responsibility than we have ever known.

In the past we have regarded the government in a sort of indefinite way as something off yonder at Washington to which we were responsible, but which wasn't just exactly responsible to us. A sort of foster father.

But we are coming more and more to realize that we are the government. That its interests are ours, its responsibilities ours, its welfare ours. That we must stand by it if it is to stand by us. That we're all of a family.

And that the rights the government stood for in their war were our rights, just as the welfare it seeks now to insure is our welfare. And the billions of dollars it must have to do this are our billions and must be supplied by us.

That it is our Victory-Liberty Loan as much as Uncle Sam's.

His honor to be defended no more than ours.

Our prosperity to be restored and perpetuated as well as his.

And that what comes after peace for Uncle Sam isn't only his concern.

It's ours; yours and mine.

And it's up to us.

OUR ROAD SYSTEM

Washington county's road building program is not likely to receive much aid from the State unless the Highway officials at Harrisburg can be brought to a different view of the situation. It is contended that outside of the National Pike, which has been more than a State highway for many years, the county will receive but little consideration at the hands of the Highway Department. If this proves to be true, Washington county, which is one of the leading counties in the State in the way of improved road building, will have to take care of its own system.

The meeting to be held at Washington on Wednesday morning, may be able to bring about a change of sentiment on the part of the State officials, although that is not the primary object of the meeting. It is to discuss the road situation of the county with a view of forming a permanent organization, which will represent every part of the county, and which will have for its object the promotion of an improved road system within the bounds of our own county. State Highway officials may be treated more generously in the way of financial aid.

A GREAT CHANGE ENTERS INTO LIFE OF STOREKEEPER

A certain unassuming gentleman in the city, who happens to be a prominent merchant and who up to a few weeks ago had become a recluse because of his physical condition, has a remarkable and most interesting tale.

"For a number of years," he said, "I have been so closely confined to my business working zealously to make my store representative in every respect that wear and tear finally got me, my face became drawn and haggard and my disposition seemed to drive people to evade me. It was then that I began to despise my own company."

Mr. bookkeeper one day suggested that I needed a rest and that my nerves required attention. She told me that her father had taken Phosphated Iron when in my condition. 'Look at him now,' she said, 'he works ten hours a day and is the happiest man in the world.'

"All this happened less than a month ago. I followed the advice and look at me now. Back in the harness with a smile all the while. I am feeling good as then. When I look at my old looking face the name of Phosphated Iron immediately comes in my mind. I am convinced that it is covering many a worn out body into a life-rich in thought, ambition and enthusiasm."

Special Notice. To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

to relieve pressing cases of financial need will doubtless have a higher respect than before for the stalwart men in the blue uniforms. The policeman comes in touch with many individuals in distress, and often acts toward them like a man and a brother. In carefully examining this phase of police work says Mr. Woods, "we came across cases that warmed one's heart." Not only have the police relieved immediate need when New York was in the midst of a period of unemployment, but they have found work for the needy and been instrumental in aiding hundreds of families and individuals over the period of depression.

BEAT H. C. L. WITH BEANS

Beans—plenty of them at prices much lower than last year—are ready to replace higher priced foods in America's meals. Only last year the cartoonists were having fun with the humble bean, for it, too, was skyrocketing in price, but today it's down—way down below last year's prices, and there's joy in other places, than Boston.

Reports on bean prices from the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, show that beans have dropped 5 to 7 cents a pound at wholesale since March last year, and in California growers are saying that they will not sell if beans go any lower at shipping points. Plentiful supplies are reported in producing sections, and retailers are already selling beans at reduced prices in many cities.

If folks are really going to swat Old Man H. C. L. with low priced beans, officials say, it will result in the use of more catsup and chili sauce—which means more tomatoes and peppers, although some prefer them with molasses and others with vinegar. Of course, "Boston baked" will come into its own. It is always possible to arouse a discussion over baked beans, for some like them cooked fairly dry, while others like them moist. Some like molasses in them and some do not. Each family should try different kinds and then stick to the one it likes best. To most New Englanders "Boston Baked Beans" means beans cooked in a covered bean pot for a long time, which are very moist when done and which have been seasoned with a little molasses. Here is a recipe which is such an old favorite that it needs no recommendation.

Woodrow Wilson today is the greatest single figure in the entire world while the Kaiser is the most despised. This production shows the triumph of America as represented by Woodrow Wilson and gives, in sketch form, a brief history of the events which led to the crushing of Germany and the part played therein by United States ideas, United States troops and United States resources.

A contrasting picture is painted. On the one hand is the Kaiser, selfish, cruel, ambitious to enslave the world. On the other side is Wilson, representing all that civilization has learned in its progress upward toward enlightenment. In this picture he represents humanity, decency, freedom, and the protection of the weak.

CARS WRECKED BY FAST DRIVING

Another accident occurred on the Webster-Monessen improved road last Friday, in which two cars were demolished and both drivers injured. Fast driving is said to have been responsible for the accident, which adds to the long list which has already taken place on that road. One of the cars is said to have been traveling at the rate of over fifty miles an hour.

A Dodge touring car, owned and driven by John Detbar of Monessen, was coming down Turkey hollow and just as he drove on to the main road a Nash touring car, driven by a Greek from Monessen, came along, and crashed into the Dodge car completely demolishing it. The Nash car was knocked about a hundred feet and landed on the P. & L. E. railroad. The drivers of both cars were painfully injured and were taken to Monessen, where their bruises were dressed. The Greek was cut about the face and head and it took seven stitches to close one of the wounds. Both cars were complete wrecks.

FAVORS PASSAGE OF THE DAY BILL

The citizens of Coal Center, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution endorsing a bill introduced in the legislature by H. W. Day, a member of the House from Westmoreland county making it unlawful for a public service company to impose a "ready-to-serve" charge. The resolution, as proposed by a committee consisting of R. L. Ledbetter, Albert Wilkins, P. McGue, James W. Davis and Charles Bradford, sets forth the following:

That remedial legislation is needed as affecting service, raise and charges of public service companies, that the citizens of the borough of Coal Center favorably endorse the bill introduced by Representative H. W. Day, and that the members of the Assembly from Washington county be asked to lend their support towards the passage of the bill.

PUTS SMALL VALUE ON BROKEN LEGS

A jury out in Ohio recently awarded a defendant $75,000 damages for the loss of both legs. A jury in the Washington county courts on Thursday, after deliberating for almost six hours, placed a value on a broken leg at six and one-fourth cents. The suit was entered by a Canonsburg man in a claim for personal injuries suffered by the plaintiff during some trouble which took place in the Polish church at that place. It is understood the value of broken legs were appraised by the jury at amounts varying from $800 to six and one-fourth cents, the latter figure appearing to be the more popular with the jury.

STUDY ELIMINATION OF GRADE CROSSINGS

More than a score of grade crossings in Western Pennsylvania counties are being studied with a view of determining whether the conditions surrounding them would justify the state highway department making formal complaint to the Public Service Commission for orders for their abolition. These crossings are on primary routes and were listed when the highways which it is planned to build wholly at state expense were outlined. The idea is to get under way the work of elimination of those which are perilous while the highway construction is being pushed.

San Cura Ointment Relieves Pain,
Draws Out Poison and Heals Promptly

There is no better remedy for burns, cuts and bruises than the antiseptic and healing ointment called San Cura.

Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example, it is guaranteed by Henning's Drug Store and Piper Bros. Druggists, to relieve itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles and pimples or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out the poison, and leave them in such a thoroughly aseptic condition that they will heal promptly.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today, and keep it ready for any accident or emergency that may happen. 30 cents, 60 cents and $1.20 at Henning's Drug Store and Piper Bros. Druggists on the money-back plan.

SOAP FOR THE SCALP

San Cura Soap is delightful for shampooing, because it is full of antiseptic properties that banish the germs of dandruff and other impurities from the scalp. It removes pimples and blackheads, too. 25 cents a cake at Henning's Drug Store and Piper's Drug Store.
